APPA: "WALKAWAYFROMTHEPOISONFESTIVALPLAZADEAL"

The new Liberal State Government must walk away from the shonky contract entered by the previous Labor State Government to PAY a private developer to take over Festival Plaza.

The State Auditor-General last year issued a scathing indictment of the procedures and governance, under which taxpayers were lumbered with a $180 million bill so that Walker Corporation would be required to build a car park, an office tower, and commercial hub alongside the Festival Centre.

The Auditor-General found:

"fundamental shortcomings in key areas of the procurement process including the basis for key decisions, governance, application of planning, risk and probity management"

Well before this year's election, the Liberal's then-Shadow Attorney-General Vickie Chapman called on the previous State Labor Government to release critical but secret

Ms Chapman is now Attorney-General and is in a position to do something about this to protect taxpayers and of course also protect the public's interest in the Festival Plaza which is part of the Adelaide Park Lands.

APPA acknowledges that tearing up a signed Government contract will have consequences for taxpayers. Paying out the Walker Corporation to get out of this deal, may have a multi-million dollar price tag.

But this liability would be comparatively small, compared to the cost of losing not only $180 million but also part of Adelaide's priceless public land heritage, to enrich a billionaire interstate property tycoon.

The new Liberal Government owes it to current and future generations of South Australians to get them out of this nightmare scenario.

ARCHITECTS HAVE GOOD ANSWERS TO WRONG QUESTION

A few months ago the outgoing State Labor Government asked a collection of architects to come up with bold designs for what might be built on the Old Royal Adelaide Hospital site.

We featured that story in our newsletter of February 2018 At the time we pointed out:

There are four heritage-listed buildings on the old RAH site. A good architect could come up with a brilliant plan for adaptive reuse of those buildings.

But the six design teams haven't been asked to do that. Rather, they've received funding to create "concept designs" for a new Adelaide "icon".

So here are some of the concept plans that the "design teams" have now produced:

What law?

Section 23 of the Adelaide Park Lands Act 2005 (See below.)

The correct question is: "HOW DO WE RETURN THE SITE TO PARK LANDS?"

23—Steps regarding change in intended use of land

- (1) If land within the Adelaide Park Lands occupied by the Crown or a State authority is no longer required for any of its existing uses, the Minister must ensure that a report concerning the State Government's position on the future use and status of the land is prepared within the prescribed period.
- (2) A report under subsection (1) must include information on the condition of the land and on the action (if any) that would be required in order to make the land suitable for public use as park lands.

OLDRAHSITE - NOT JUST FOR THE DEVELOPERS

The old Royal Adelaide Hospital site is part of Park 11, and as such, it is included (along with nearby sites) in the Park Lands video of the month which takes you on a virtual tour of Park 11 (see below).

We hope that the video will prompt an awareness among Members of Parliament that the old RAH site is not just another development opportunity. It could actually become an "icon" as Park Lands, although not with new buildings on it.

We hope that you have signed our petition to the Premier Steven Marshall, calling on him to 'Keep Public Land Public' and not have commercial interests overtake the old RAH site. <https://www.change.org/p/steven-marshall-mp-keep-public-land-public>

We've also written to Mr Marshall directly about this. To make this point even clearer, we've dissected the policy that the Liberal Party took to the March 2018 State election. We've pointed out how incongruous it is that no part of the Liberal policy provides for returning ANY of the old RAH site to Park Lands.

Read our letter to the Premier here.

And see the old RAH site, in the context of Park 11, in the video below.

To appreciate the dangers facing this section of the Park Lands refer to the story in last month's e-Gazette.

Not sure what we mean about "icons" and Park Lands? Have a look at our animated video "Vibrancy".

Whether you want the site returned entirely to Park Lands, or whether you support some new public buildings on the site, there is a fundamental principle at stake; a line in the sand that must not be crossed by any State Government.

If any new buildings replace the old RAH, this public land (Park Lands) should not be commercialised or privatised. It cannot be merely exploited for private profit. It must remain in public hands, for public (not private) benefit.

VIDEO OF THE MONTH - PARK 11, the "PATCHWORK PARK"

Park 11 includes Mistletoe Park, the Adelaide Zoo, Botanic Park, the Adelaide Botanic Garden and the old RAH site. Spend a few moments exploring....

A HERITAGE ASSET IS AN ECONOMIC BENEFIT

One of the world's leading thinkers on the economic benefits of heritage conservation paid a visit to Adelaide earlier this month.

Donovan Rypkema's visit was sponsored by the National Trust and the Adelaide City Council. Mr Rypkema gave a public lecture on Thursday 3rd May. His talk was mainly about the economic benefits of built heritage, with examples from around the world showing how heritage zones in other cities attract greater tourist dollars compared to new developments.

But in answer to a question about Adelaide's strengths he was unequivocal in pointing to the Park Lands enclosing the city and North Adelaide, as a unique asset that we need to cherish. [Photo: Rodney Twiss]

SURVEYINGADELAIDE - 181YEARSON

This historical marker has been placed at the corner of North Terrace and West Terrace, outside the Newmarket Hotel.

What is it and why?

It's called "Trig Station A" and it marks the point where Colonel William Light began his trigonometrical (trig) survey of Adelaide, 181 years ago. The bronze plaque is large - 800mm across.

The professional practices established by Colonel Light were of such a high standard that they are still in use today. The data recorded in 1837 was so accurate that the nail which marks the precise point of Trig Station A was driven into Light's original peg hole.

Surveyors and historians are lobbying to have this marker recognised on the World Heritage list.

The Lord Mayor, Martin Haese attended the National Trust's plaque ceremony at the start of the SA History Festival on Friday 27 April.

You can read more about Trig Station A here:

MAY 2018 CONSTRUCTION SITE BULLETIN

It can be hard to keep up with all the construction work that is under way, at any one time, in the Park Lands.

Here's just a few of the projects currently under way, with pictures taken recently, in April-May 2018.

Park 11 - Botanic High School

As featured in this month's Park Lands video (see above) the new 7-storey Botanic High School, in Park 11, is nearing completion.

ADELAIDE OVAL LIQUOR LICENSING EXTENSION BACK IN COURT

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▾RSS 📡

A bid by the Stadium Management Authority to extend the liquor license for Adelaide Oval into the Park Lands is back in court within days.

We've been following this saga in our newsletter in recent months. See the earlier stories here:

- February 2018
- January 2018; and
- November 2017

The City Council objected to the original proposal of November 2017 (above left) but then gave consent to an amended proposal of February 2018 (above right) which covered a smaller area.

A conciliation hearing in April failed to reach agreement between the 41 community objectors and the Stadium Management Authority. Accordingly, the matter will now be determined by a Judge of the Licensing Court. The judge will rule on the original application (above left) which covered a larger area of Tarntanya Wama (Park 26).

There is a directions hearing listed at 1.30pm on Thursday 17 May. Some of the community objectors have applied to be heard by the Court. The legal battle may take some months more to resolve.

JUDGING UNDERWAY FOR PARK LANDS ART PRIZE

When entries closed for the 2018 Park Lands Art on 1 May, a total of 185 entries had been received.

Judges are now assessing all the works, to nominate those worthy of going on display as finalists at the Festival Centre.

Those selected as finalists will be notified by 1 June, after which the works will be collected for display at the Festival centre over a six-week period commencing on 4 July.

The official opening on 4 July will also be the occasion for prize-giving, with winners sharing in $33,000 Prize Money

- $20,000 First Prize
- $2,000 APPA Young Artist Prize
- 10 x $1,000 Highly Commended Prizes
- $1,000 Royal Adelaide Show People's Choice Prize

BRIEFLY, IN OTHER PARK LANDS NEWS

Premier Steven Marshall and Health Minister Stephen Wade have foreshadowed taking away even more of Park 27 to construct a new Women's and Children's Hospital. No costings and no precise location has been specified, but it's clear that Park Lands are in the Government's sights.

<https://indaily.com.au/news/local/2018/04/18/questions-unanswered-womens-childrens-hospital-rebuild/>

The Park numbers are back!

In September 2017 the City Council inexplicably decided it would dump the more-than-century old convention of referring to Adelaide's 30 Parks by their numbers. APPA highlighted the issue in our January newsletter and wrote to the Lord Mayor about it. Now, without fanfare, the Park numbers have been quietly restored to the Council's website. Some Park signage that was produced in the previous six months might need to be re-done.

A new resident's society for Park 9?

Locals who live in the vicinity of Bunday's Paddock / Tidlangga (Park 9) are being invited to consider forming a new residents' society. A meeting is scheduled for this Saturday (May 19th) at 8am at The Store 157 Melbourne Street. For more details contact: park9@internode.on.net
